Time Off & Absence in Workday

Time Off and Leave of Absences - Differences

Time Off

- Time-off is typically short to medium term with Start and End dates defined, such as holiday.
- Associated with plans that typically have set balances, accruals and carry-forward rules.
- Employees will enter their own time off requests in Workday.
- Requires manager's approval.

Leave of Absence (LOA)

- Leave of Absence is typically longer in duration, for example short-term disability.
- Must request return from leave of absence and provide supporting documentation, if needed.
- Governed by laws and legislative mandates.
- Request routed to Absence Partner for review and approval.
- In most countries HR is responsible for entering long term leave of absence, Only in Spain and Iceland Managers and Employees are responsible for this task.

Time Off and Leave of Absences – Category Examples

Time Off

- Paid Time Off / Annual Leave
- Floating Holidays
- Bereavement / Relative Deceased
- Civic Duties

Leave of Absence (LOA)

- FMLA
- LTD/STD (Long/short term Leave)
- Parental / Maternity Leave
- Unpaid Leave

JBT Marel

Time Offs and Leave of Absences will vary depending on the country you are in.

Time Off Process Flow in Workday

Request Time Off

→ Employee requests Time Off directly in Workday

→ Manager reviews and approves or sends back in Workday

→ Visible to employee in Workday

→ Employee can edit or cancel the request in Workday

*Managers & HR have access to the Time and Absence Hub

LOA Process Flow in Workday

US LOA Process

HR receives Unum report identifying employees to be placed on LOA

→ HR places employee on leave in Workday.

→ Employee's LOA will be visible in Workday.

→ HR receives email/report when it is time to return the employee from leave.

→ HR returns employee from leave in Workday.

→ Manager receives task to reassign work schedule in Workday.

EMEA LOA Process

When LOA is required for an employee, HR/manager places employee on leave in Workday.

→ Employee's LOA will be visible in Workday.

→ When employee needs to be returned from leave, HR/manager returns employee from leave in Workday.

→ Manager receives task to reassign work schedule in Workday.

System Demo

Let us login to Workday to explore the Employee experience of:

1. Requesting Time Off
2. Entering Leave of Absence on behalf of Employee
3. Manager review/approve Time Off request
4. Manager/HR returning employee from leave (depending on process of your country)

Note: A Help article will be available with step-by-step instructions to guide Managers to Manage Leaves.

Transition Plan for Time Off and Absence

Data Migration

Time Off/
Absence Data

- If eligible - Any carryover balances will be loaded into Workday.
- Accrued balances through the cutover date will be migrated into Workday
- Any future-dated absences approved prior to the freeze will also be loaded

Transaction Freeze and Catchup

Catch-Up Period

- 2026 approved time off will need to be re-requested by the employee. (only employees that are using Workday at go-live.)
- Iceland - Any Absence data for the month of December will be loaded into the new tenant for Go Live
- Denmark - Any absence data as of the 21st - 31st December will be loaded into the new tenant.